House Stays In Session; Senate Out

Governor Expected To Give Additional Proposals Tuesday

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—It was "full speed ahead" for House and Senate Appropriations committees today as the Missouri Legislature went into the second day of its special budget session.

The House and Senate proper were merely marking time but the committees started hearings in full scale, mid-session style.

The Senate chaplain, the Rev. W. B. McGraw of Warrensburg, set the tone for the special session in his opening prayer.

"Yesterday," he said, "we went into the delivery room and had handed to us a half billion dollar baby."

He asked for divine guidance in making wise decisions on the $534 million budget submitted by Gov. James T. Blair.

Members, too, appeared to be approaching their big task in solemn fashion. The first bills are scheduled to be ready for house action next week.

The Senate recessed until next Tuesday, when the governor is expected to have additional recommendations for the lawmakers.

But Sen. John W. Noble (D) of Kennett, the appropriations chairman, said his committee would work today, tomorrow and Thursday, then come back Monday for more hearings.

House attendance continued high even though no floor session is expected this week. On this second day of the session, 142 House members answered the $10 expense roll call and visited with each other while the routine of a 30-minute session was completed.

The House Appropriations Committee got started last night with the governor himself as the first witness. He said an emergency appropriation of $17,500 for the rest of this year would give his office two more needed employees.

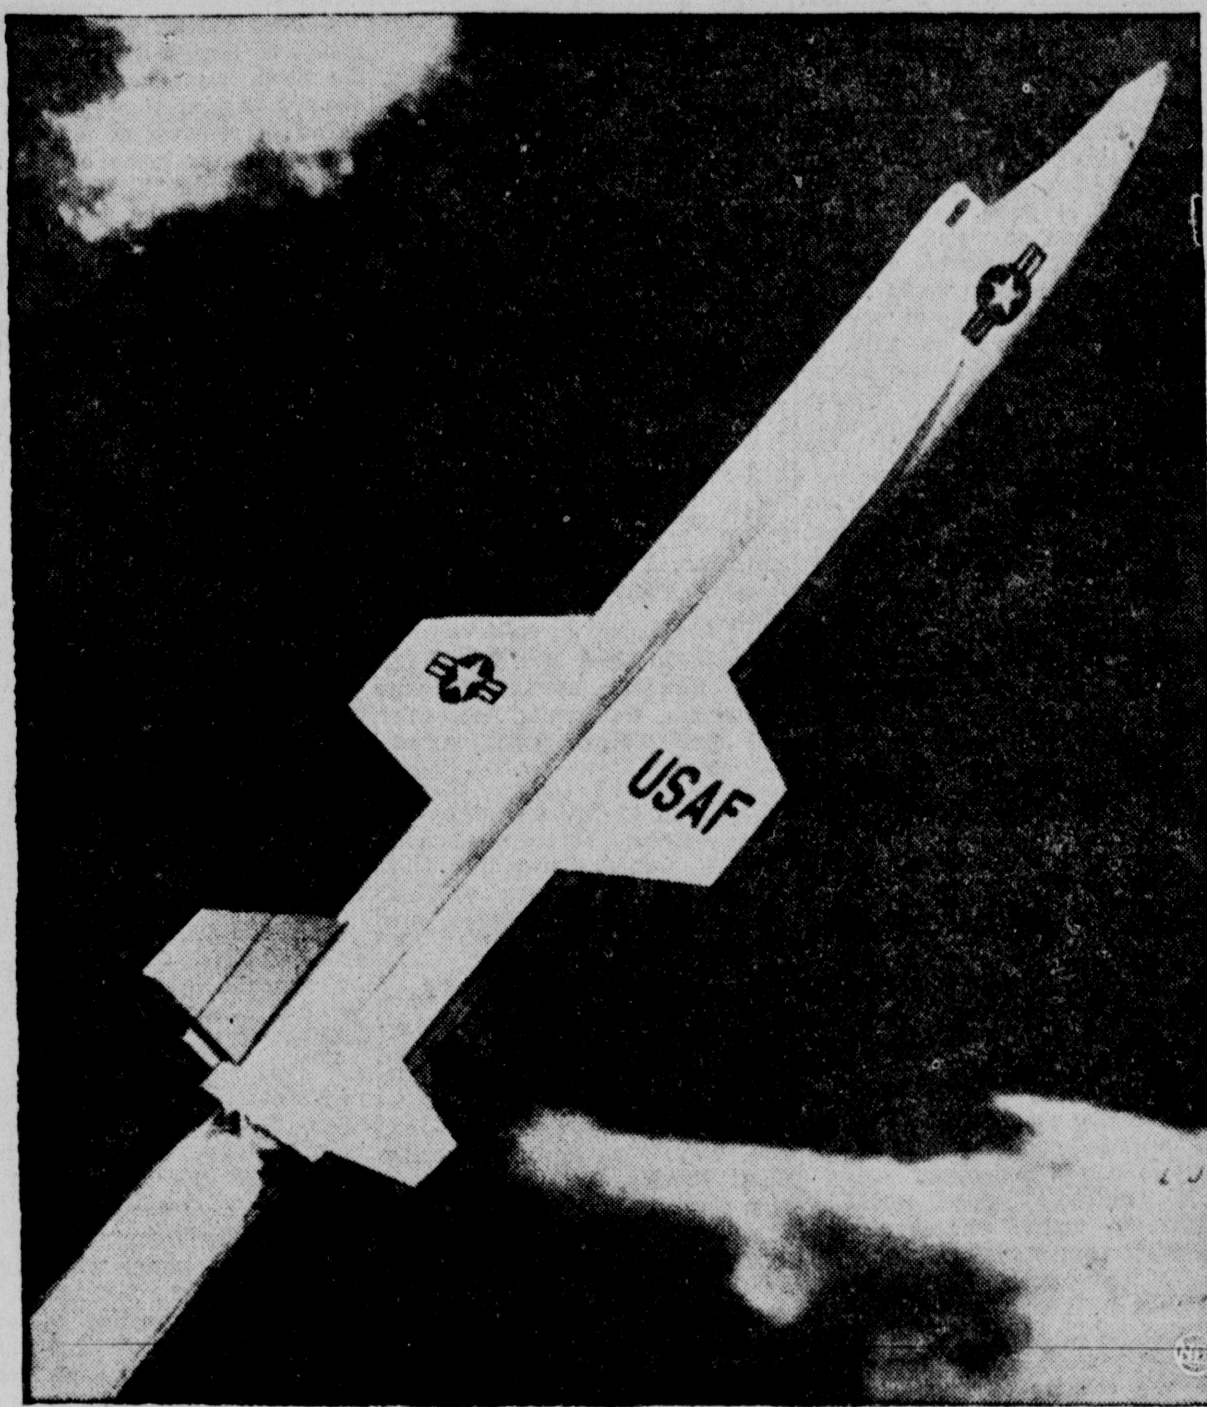

Mixed reaction to the governor's budget message was found among the first legislators questioned.

Many noted with relief that in this election year no new taxes or tax increases are planned.

But several expressed alarm at the record breaking budget, sending the cost of state government for one year over the half billion mark for the first time.

A number of lawmakers, especially among the Republican minority, said they wanted to take a closer look at the recommendations in the hope they can trim out some "unnecessary" items.

The governor told the legislators he plans to submit some other problems for them soon but did not indicate what they would be.

Orders Space Program Ideas

President Wants to Know If Pentagon Control Desirable

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has ordered his science adviser to come up with recommendations on whether America's space program should be left in the Pentagon or turned over to some new agency of government.

This disclosure came out of an unusually long conference between the President and top Republicans in the Senate and House.

Dr. James R. Killian Jr., Eisenhower's adviser on scientific problems, provided a briefing at the session.

Senate Republican leader Knowland of California told reporters afterward that Killian will produce a report on "the type of structure we may want to set up in the field of outer space activities—as to where it will be in the over-all structure of the government."

Such activity now is centered in the defense department.

When the Killian report will come along, Knowland didn't say. He said it will go first to the President and then to the Republican leaders on Capitol Hill.

It was these leaders, Knowland said, who requested the presence of Killian at this regular Tuesday legislative huddle with the chief executive.

The conference lasted two hours and 10 minutes. Rep. Allen (R-Ill.) commented that "it was about the longest we've had in a long time."

In addition to the usual discussion of the legislative program in general, Knowland said there also was talk of the prospects for early submission to Congress of a plan to reorganize the Defense Department. He said prospects are that at least the general outlines of Eisenhower's recommendations in this field will be in the hands of Congress by mid-March.

Serving as spokesman for all the Republican leadership on Capitol Hill, Knowland wouldn't go so far as to say there is any anxiety or dissatisfaction with the satellite and space programs.

No conclusions were reached, he said, on whether more money will be needed.

The forthcoming report from Killian, Knowland said, will deal with satellites, weapons and missiles.

Farm and Home Meet Set for California

The 34th annual Farm and Home Conference will be held in the court room at California, Friday, Feb. 14. The meeting will be called to order at 10 a.m. by Jim Briscoe, chairman.

The program will include a discussion of the farm situation programs; outlook; and the problem of vertical integration as it applies to farming by C. E. Klingner, extension economist. A discussion of their balanced farming activities and farming operations will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Rackers, county balanced farming award winners from Cole County. C. M. Shristy, extension soils specialist, will discuss the use of fertilizer and cultural practices to get the most efficient production of crops and pastures. This is one of the most important phases of farming to do as the productivity of the soil is still the basis of a farm operation.

County balanced farming awards will be presented to award winners families.

For the noon luncheon, women attending are asked to bring a pie. The rest of the meal will be furnished and served by the California Chamber of Commerce.

To Open Bids On Broadway Improvements

Highway Department
Select Low Bidder
On February 21

Opening of bids on contracts for the improvements to Broadway from New York to Limit is to be held at the Missouri State Highway Department in Jefferson City on Friday, Feb. 21. The official awarding of the contract will not be made until the meeting of the Highway Commission on March 11.

Bids for the work would have been asked at the January opening, but due to a delay in getting an ordinance passed with reference to the moving and making permanent water mains and leads to private property and the moving of water meter boxes, the asking for the bids had to be delayed until this month.

Rex Whitten, chief engineer of the Highway Department, said the improvement will be a major one for Sedalia and that Broadway, when complete, will be one of the most beautiful streets running through any Missouri city.

No definite indication was given when work would be started, but it is expected to get underway within a short time after the letting.

The Broadway improvement calls for the widening of the street, with new curb and gutters on both sides of the street all the way from New York to Limit, and grading and landscaping the adjoining property to the street between sidewalk and curb.

The roadway will be given a completely new paving job.

The Highway Commission has also requested bids for 3.4 miles of grading, bridging and surfacing on Saline County Route VV from Highway 40 about 3½ miles west of Sweet Springs, northerly. The project includes a 90-foot precast concrete slab bridge over Brushy Creek and a 175-foot continuous I-beam bridge over Davis Creek.

Police Look For Kidnaper At Roadblock

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—Police intensified a house-to-house search and warned curiosity seekers out of the area where a young woman was accidentally shot to death at a roadblock set up to catch the bandit.

Capt. Stuart Miller of the Kentucky state police said officers would expand their search of all buildings in the Melber area in a remote part of McCracken County where Carl Burton, 24, was last seen Sunday night.

Burton, heavily armed, left a farmhouse on foot after he and Harold Davis, 33, held Missouri State Trooper William Little and a farm couple prisoner for 24 hours. Davis attempted to commit suicide and was captured.

The fatal shooting of Jewell English, 24, Paducah, occurred when her brother Claude English, 27, inadvertently drove through a roadblock between Paducah and the Melber community where two civilians had joined a Missouri state trooper.

Forest McAllister, 26, Fulton, fired the Missouri trooper's carbine at the auto and the trooper used a shotgun. McAllister, who with a friend, Charles King, had stopped their own car to talk with the trooper, said he didn't know whose shot hit the girl. She was hit in the back.

Officials indicated no charges would be filed pending an inquest. Miller said civilians had been asked to aid in the search for the fugitive by giving all available information to police. He said they were not asked to take any official part in the investigation.

It was reported McAllister had been sitting in the trooper's auto when the English car approached the roadblock. It was believed he was not previously acquainted with the troopers.

Vocal Music Clinic Is Held At Sacred Heart on Monday

The Vocal Music Clinic, sponsored by the PBCAA Conference of which Roy Freund is president, gave the residents of Sedalia a full evening of entertainment with songs and ballads Monday night at the Sacred Heart Gymnasium.

The Vocal Clinic, composed of school glee clubs from Cole Camp, Sacred Heart, Warsaw, Green Ridge, Lincoln, Hughesville, and Houstonia, arrived in Sedalia early Monday morning and spent most of the day in the Sacred Heart Gymnasium in practice sessions.

After the morning practice session the members of the clinic were served in Sacred Heart's new cafeteria, where they enjoyed a refreshing meal. After the short rest, practice was resumed until 4:30 p.m. when a record hop was held in the auditorium.

Branson Fire Injures Two, Destroys Gym

BRANSON, Mo. (AP)—A fire broke out today in Branson High School a few minutes before classes and destroyed a gymnasium and a section of classrooms. A girl student was burned critically and a teacher was injured slightly.

Firemen reported at noon that the blaze was believed under control.

Beverly Jones, 17, a senior, was hospitalized in critical condition. Hospitalized in less serious condition was a teacher, Virginia Wilcox. Both were early arrivals.

Supt. J. F. Colby, whose offices are in the building, was treated and released. He retrieved some of his records then joined in fighting the fire, suffering minor burns.

Colby said the Jones girl was burned by a "blast of flame" which caught her in a classroom before the school bell. Miss Wilcox, he said, was burned while fleeing from a dressing room in the old gymnasium.

The fire started behind the stage of the old gym and spread quickly to an adjoining classrooms building.

Students in the gym at the time discovered the blaze and reported it. School was promptly dismissed for the day. Colby said classes may be called off for some time.

Firemen from Branson, Hollister, Forsyth and the School of the Ozarks fought to confine the flames behind a fire wall protecting a new classrooms section.

FCC Chairman Says He Repaid Money Received As A 'Windfall'

WASHINGTON (AP)—John C. Doerfer, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, told House investigators today he repaid two weeks ago $165.12 received in 1954 from an Oklahoma television station.

Doerfer, protesting he was "seriously misled," said he had banked the money under the misapprehension it constituted reimbursement for airline transportation for himself and his wife to attend a ceremony staged by station KWTW, Oklahoma City.

Doerfer disclosed the repayment as he resumed the witness chair to answer allegations of misconduct against five of seven FCC commissioners before a special subcommittee investigating federal regulatory agencies.

Subcommittee counsel Bernard Schwartz yesterday produced documents purporting to show that Doerfer was furnished airline transportation from Washington to Oklahoma City by KWTW, but that he traveled back to Washington via Spokane, Wash., at government expense.

Schwartz told the committee that subsequently Edgar Bell, KWTW manager, sent Doerfer a check for $165.12 representing the unused portion of a round trip plane ticket for Doerfer and his wife.

Schwartz called the $165.12 a "windfall."

Doerfer said it was "no windfall" but the result of a misapprehension that it was repayment for his own out-of-pocket expenses for a plane ticket to Oklahoma City for himself and Mrs. Doerfer.

Doerfer testified he had signed a personal check in blank and turned it over to his secretary to purchase plane transportation for a five-day itinerary that took him to Oklahoma and Spokane in October 1954.

"Until I got back," he declared, "I was under the impression that I had paid the whole fare for my wife and myself from Washington to Oklahoma City."

Doerfer is the first of the seven federal communications commissioners to be called before a special House subcommittee. That group started out to check the working methods of six government agencies and branched into allegations of personal misconduct against five FCC members.

Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, who also testified, said his office will take into consideration the testimony given before the subcommittee in auditing accounts of the commission.

Various documents introduced indicated that broadcasting interests paid $1,080.87 for Doerfer and his wife on a trip to Oklahoma City and Spokane, Wash., in October 1954. At the same time, subcommittee counsel Bernard Schwartz contended, Doerfer billed the government for $296.15 in travel expenses for the same trip.

Doerfer contended he put in many hours of official work on inspection tours and similar duties and that his claim for government reimbursement was justified.

"This was no junket," he added. The payments included $575 from the National Assn. of Radio and Television Broadcasters which Doerfer said was an honorarium or speaker's fee. He addressed a regional meeting of the association in Spokane. He said the law authorizes such payments and added: "It is perfectly legal, perfectly valid, and there is no impropriety."

Doerfer said he was not previously acquainted with the troopers.

Ordinance To Hike Mayor's Pay Is Read

Four Ordinances
Given Final Passage
At Meeting Monday

By D. Kelly Scruton

The City Council heard read for the first time Monday night an ordinance which would raise the salary of the Mayor of Sedalia from $2,400 to $4,800 a year. The ordinance was drafted upon recommendation of leading citizens desiring to increase the Mayor's salary from a $200-a-month-job to $400.

Final passage will be up to the Council at its next regular meeting, Feb. 17.

Four ordinances were given final passage: rezoning of lot 13 in See Addition from residential to highway business, (1905 W. Broadway owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Howard and John Gledhill); letting the contract for sewer lateral No. 1 in District 133; accepting improvements made, work done, and materials furnished for a sewer in District 140 completed by the J. W. Atkinson Construction Co., and letting the contract for sewer lateral No. 2 in District 138.

Councilman Woodrow Garrison ask permission for the Street and Alley Department to purchase 100 tons of road rock at $1.75 per ton. The request was approved.

Councilman Dr. Ira White read a recommendation from Clinton Black, electrical engineer for the Missouri Public Service Co., to change a light on East Third between Lamine and Massachusetts. He recommended placing of a new steel pole with new fixtures carrying 10,000 lumen light, replacing the present 4,000 lumen light. It would be located about the middle of the block and would carry overhead wiring.

The Council approved the recommendation.

Councilman Harry Moore called attention to the problem of obtaining a right-of-way for a sewer for Lateral 2 in District 128 through the property of Dr. J. B. Hunter. He suggested if the right-of-way could not be obtained condemnation proceedings be started.

The City officers reports for the month of January were read and approved.

Two annual reports were presented and read, one from Fire Chief John G. Lueck and the other from L. W. Dickman, building and electrical inspector.

The report of L. W. Dickman, building and electrical inspector, shows a total of 240 building permits issued during 1957 brought in $2,306 in fees and 463 electrical permits issued brought in $1,265.70 in fees. The total amount in fees collected through issuances of permits was $3,571.

Dickman reported property owners declared cost of building to be: 119 new homes at $1,161.25; 85 home additions and improvements at $72,775; 27 new business buildings at $756,900; and nine new business additions at $60,100. The total construction picture as reported by owners was 240 projects costing an estimated $2,051,025.

In 1956 the declared building costs was $2,154,190 and in 1955 they were $1,765,920.

The following liquor licenses were approved by the Council: State Fair Lounge, Bothwell Hotel, liquor by the drink; Old Missouri Homestead, liquor by the drink; Eastend Tavern, liquor by the drink; and Will Davis' Cafe, 315 North Osage, for 3.2 beer.

Councilman Garrison took the floor and praised the City Street and Alley Department for the fine work in getting streets opened to traffic during the recent storm and expressed the pleasure of many Sedalians who commented favorably on this project.

The City bills totalling $11,158.30 were read and approved. They were: Lights and Water, $3,150.38; Street and Alley Dept., $2,145.41; Police Dept., $1,394.35; Sanitation Dept., $1,387.74; Contingent, $1,008.49; Traffic $908.90; Public Buildings, $539.15; Fire Dept., $364.10; Airport, $259.78.

Fines collected during the month of January were reported at $2,605.

Disputes Need For Listing Expense Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Detroit accountant has disputed the legal authority of the Internal Revenue Service to require the listing of expense account money in filing income tax returns.

Wallace M. Jensen, chairman of the Taxation Committee of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, said federal tax laws do not authorize the inclusion of reimbursed expenses as gross income except in instances where the sums represent indirect pay.

Jensen, testifying before the House Ways and Means Committee, said Congress should amend the law to make this clear.

The Internal Revenue Service has indicated taxpayers will be required to list all reimbursements as gross income. The service set off a major uproar last October when it disclosed a blank for listing such payments had been included on the 1957 tax form. It later backed away from requiring the information for last year, but advised taxpayers to keep ample records for the current year.

"It seems clear that such reimbursements are at most loan transactions between the employer and the employee," said Jensen. "As such, they do not have any of the economic characteristics of income."

Jensen said many court cases would ensure unless Congress amends the law.

The CPA committee submitted 251 recommendations for changes in the tax structure, which is being studied by the Ways and Means Committee.

Jensen urged that tax differences between residents in community property states and other states be eliminated. He noted that deductible losses from a business are limited in certain cases to $50,000 per year, but that in a community property state the limit may be $100,000.

Another recommendation would permit closely held corporations to be taxed as partnerships, a move which Jensen said would benefit many small businesses which desire corporate organization without the resultant high taxes.

He also called for a change to permit persons whose income varies from year to year to file "average" income tax returns.

Blair Adopts A 'Prove It' Budget Plan

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. James T. Blair — the man who asked for and got authority last year to establish a "prove it" budget system for the state's many agencies—was the first to appear this year before the House Appropriations Committee with that goal in mind.

He said an emergency appropriation of $17,500 for his office in the next five months would not be used to hike salaries of present personnel. Instead, he said, it would be used to add two people to his staff and to buy needed equipment so better records could be kept.

Even before the governor appeared at the first appropriations committee session, the budget staff was subjected to close questioning.

John Schwada, a University of Missouri specialist loaned to the staff to get the budget operation into full scale use, said the purpose of the staff was to obtain information on which the governor could base his budget recommendations and to defend them if necessary.

Whereupon Rep. John E. Boone (D) of Buchanan County burst out that he voted for the budget staff last spring because "I thought" was creating a fact finding body.

Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the State Highway Patrol, explained to the committee his need for $100,378 to add 40 additional men during the last four or five months of this year, to provide equipment for them and to buy a helicopter.

He said the "chopper" would be useful in traffic control and to assist in rescue work. He said the patrol could, however, get along without it. Under questioning, he denied it would be used for the "transportation of personnel," including elective officials.

The event will be held Tuesday evening at Fox Midwest Theatres' Uptown Theatre with all proceeds being donated to the twenty Optimist Clubs of greater Kansas City to aid their youth welfare program for 1958.

Brandon de Wilde, who stars in the title role in the $2,000,000 Technicolor production, will fly here from New York, joined by Paul Ford, the popular Army colonel of the Sgt. Bilko TV show, who also is topcast in the comedy drama.

Miss Klingenberg Becomes Bride Of K. Nierman

Miss Suzanne Klingenberg, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klingenberg and Kenneth Nierman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Nierman, all of Concordia, were recently married in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Concordia, by the Rev. O. E. Heilmann.

Miss Lois Heilmann played the traditional wedding music as the guests were being seated.

Kenneth Klinkerman sang "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tulle with a long train. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped square neckline with short sleeves. The voluminous skirt was floor length and featured a wide insertion of Chantilly lace from the bodice to the hemline and around the skirt. A shell cap of lace trimmed with sequins held her fingertip illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and yellow sweetheart roses.

Miss Rose Ann Frerking was maid of honor. She wore a yellow tulle gown fashioned similar to the bride's. She wore a matching lace headpiece and carried a bouquet of yellow mums.

Homer Nierman was best man. Stanley Frerking and Edward Nierman lighted the tapers and served as ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at Concordia VFW Hall.

After a honeymoon in St. Louis the couple will reside on a farm east of Concordia.

'Going Steady' Is Discussed By Parents

Smith-Cotton Parent and Family Life meeting was held at the high school Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Ralph Rohrbach, chairman in charge.

The devotional, "It Pays to Advise," was given by Mrs. Sam Knapp. She advertised family participation in prayer, Bible reading and church attendance.

Special music was presented by Mrs. Carl Schrader, who introduced Cliff Robinson, Dale Miller, Charles Robinson and Ken Williams. They sang the following numbers: "Invictus," "My Prayer For Today," "I Must Go Down to the Sea Again" and "Barn Dance."

Speaker for the evening was Mrs. Virgil Ellis, teacher at the Broadway School, who discussed the topic, "Is Dating Different To Today?" She presented the topic quite cleverly, using the idea of washing and hanging up each problem to be discussed, then ironing it out with ideas and suggestions.

Mrs. Ellis had the following suggestions for parents of teenagers to follow: Let your teenagers interests develop at their own rate; don't be afraid to say NO if necessary; be consistent and fair; be a good listener; keep confidences sacred; don't pry; give your youngsters an opportunity to give their viewpoint; meet his or her date with grace; and be dependable as far as cars, privileges or clothes as possible.

She closed by saying we have to teach our youngsters the proper moral values, so they can decide what is right and wrong.

The entire group was divided into three discussion groups, then the questions discussed were evaluated by Mrs. Rohrbach. She also read excerpts from several magazines both for and against "Going Steady."

Frightened Child May Have 'School Phobia'

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A specialist in child psychiatry says junior's reluctance to attend school doesn't necessarily mean he's lazy or stubborn—just may have "school phobia."

Dr. Paul C. Laybourne, Kansas City, Kan., said in an interview that such a child may have a serious emotional problem.

"And these children are really not afraid to go to school," he said. "They are afraid of leaving home."

"Some are afraid their parents will get a divorce. So they want to stay out of school and keep watch. Others are afraid their father will kill their mother, and that their mother will die while they are gone."

Or, he added, "some don't want to go because they've got a grumpy teacher."

Americans Lose Money By Careless Handling

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Did you know that Americans lose over 100 million dollars every year because of careless handling? That's the estimate of the American Express Co. in a nationwide survey.

Horace Foulks, representing American Express, said the survey showed most of this money could be saved by more care.

Robertson Got Shorted Out In Italian Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This might be titled "An American in Rome" or "Innocent Abroad."

It concerns actor Dale Robertson and his adventures in Italy shooting "Anne of Brooklyn" with Gina Lollobrigida. Dale is a plain-talking Oklahoman who speaks his piece and lets the chips fly where they may. So we'll let him talk.

"Gina and I didn't have any fights. Some fantastic stories were printed, including one that I showed up at the airport with a black eye she gave me. There was nothing like that. But I will say that we didn't hit it off too well. Those (Italian film) people aren't the warmest in the world."

"The whole thing wasn't a very good situation for me. Her husband was the producer and her partner, Vittoria de Sica, was directing and appearing in the picture too. I was bound to come out on the short end."

"On the last day of the picture, I told them that I never played so many scenes where the other actors were between me and the camera. Every scene I had with De Sica had him facing the camera and me with my back to it."

"There were 4,300 stills taken on the picture. It didn't matter how anyone else looked in the photos. If they were good of Gina, they were kept. If not, the negative was burned."

"When I got over there, I found they were using a different script from the one I agreed to do. Then they started on billing. I was told my name had to be in type 75

Dogs Are The Favorites

Winter's snow brought pleas for feeding the feathered creatures. In many of Sedalia's backyards they seem to be faring well from bread, tossed out scraps, and even special menus of suet, etc.

We suppose these charitable gestures for the birds include pigeons because they, too, have to eat. The latter must be getting a fairly substantial share of the bird dinners because they haven't lessened activity in dirtying sidewalks beneath their usual perches downtown, especially on West Fourth street.

Song birds, and just plain old birds, don't seem to be the nuisance pigeons are. Nevertheless when the food supply is cut off by heavy snows, all birds get sympathetic attention.

Birds will never take the place of dogs as pets, however. Man's best friend continues to be the favorite companion because this animal seems to acknowledge and return actions of love and kindness.

Illustrating this point is an article in the February issue of Railway Progress on "Dogs" describing a poignant and unsolved mystery in the life of Old Shep, a big sheep dog that arrived in Fort Benton, Mont., in August 1936 at the same time a casket was put aboard the afternoon Great Northern train for shipment to the east. Station employees noticed the disconsolate dog sitting by the tracks after the train pulled out with the casket.

For almost six years, the faithful dog with shaggy coat met every train that came through Fort Benton. When he heard a locomotive whistle, he would rouse himself, leave his shelter by the station, walk the full length of the cars sniffing the air, then settle down dispiritedly to wait for the next train.

When Old Shep died January 14, 1942, he had become such a local institution that Fort Benton stores closed, schools were dismissed and a minister read a funeral oration. The dog is buried beside the Great Northern tracks and his grave is marked with a monument passengers can see from the trains.

Many persons will forget about the story of Old Shep and his numerous counterparts come Spring and garden planting time.

Ike Balks at Dining With Truman

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Eric Johnston, who has had the courage to try to arrange peace between the Jews and the Arabs, tried recently to appease Eisenhower's enmity toward Harry Truman. He didn't quite succeed.

He did get an agreement that Truman should be invited to be the main speaker at a big bipartisan luncheon to boost foreign aid on February 25, and that Eisenhower should be the main speaker at a dinner the same night. But he didn't succeed in getting Ike to sit at the same meeting with Truman—even though Vice President Nixon strongly backed him up.

Johnston, who is head of the Motion Picture Association and was president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce longer than any other man in history, had been appointed by Eisenhower to lead a bipartisan campaign to mobilize public opinion for foreign aid, now facing rough sledding in Congress.

The campaign is to include a bipartisan conference attended by Eisenhower, Herbert Hoover and Clare Booth Luce on the Republican side; with Adlai Stevenson, Eleanor Roosevelt and Harry Truman on the Democratic side.

Johnston feels that the future of American world leadership is at stake and that complete political unity is necessary. To sell the idea to Eisenhower, he and Vice President Nixon went to the White House.

Ike approved the plan until Harry Truman's name was mentioned. At this he blew a gasket. He objected to having Truman participate.

Nixon argued that some dramatic spectacle such as a joint appeal by Ike and Truman was necessary if the administration was to put foreign aid through Congress. Ike, however, was still opposed.

He didn't elaborate, but it's no secret that the President has nursed a grudge against Truman for some time, has never invited him to the White House, and refused to see him when he first went to Kansas City in 1953. Truman tried to pay his respects to the President at that time but was informed Eisenhower was busy.

Johnston looked a little discouraged when he left the White House after his session with Nixon and Ike. His plans for bipartisanship seemed to be on the rocks.

However, the resourceful Johnston went out to Kansas City to see Mr. Truman. The ex-president was a good sport, has accepted an invitation to speak at a gala luncheon. That night President Eisenhower will speak at a gala dinner. The two will not meet.

Note—There's one definite advantage to holding both a luncheon and a dinner, the White House argued. For if too many big names are at one speakers table it curtails the time limit for each speaker and makes for too many important speeches for the newspapers to absorb in one story.

Fingers in the Gravy

It usually happens that when too many bureaucrats are caught with their fingers in the gravy bowl, the fellow who tells them to take their fingers out gets smeared. This is true of both Republicans and Democrats. They all gang up together and turn on the man who's rapping their knuckles.

HARTFORD (Conn.) COURANT: Best Dressed. Again for the fifth year in a row, Mrs. William Paley, New York matron, has been dubbed "best dressed" by a group of self-appointed judges. And again we are forced to file a demurrer, principally because the term "best dressed" is too indefinite. Best dressed for what? For cooking a turkey, changing a baby's diaper, waiting on table, selling dry goods? What is best-dressed for, let us say, sitting up at night with a sick baby is not best dressed for eating at Toots Shor's or Sherman Billingsley's place. And vice versa, of course.

We have long labored to put some sense into these best-dressed contests by having them divided into categories, the least of which would be the purely ornamental. One category might be "Best dressed on 40 bucks a week." Or, another: "Best dressed with the stingiest husband." Or even: "Best dressed in your local super-market."

When you come right down to it, all these things are subjective. Probably William Paley agrees with the decision, but who else does? We don't, for the simple reason we have our own choices and can back them up with as much stuff as the people who picked Mrs. Paley

Great it is to believe the dream

But a greater thing is to fight life through
And say at the end, "The dream is true!"

Summit Conference Is No Closer Now

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The summit conference is no closer than when President Eisenhower and Premier Bulganin began writing letters about it almost two months ago.

Bulganin has written three letters, each pretty much a repetition of the previous one. Eisenhower has written one, is expected to write another. At this rate it could go on for months.

Bulganin put this country on the defensive with his first letter. Then Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles put the Soviet Union on the defensive. The score so far: no hits, no runs, and it's too soon to detect the errors.

Bulganin's first letter was written at a moment calculated to get the most propaganda benefit: just when Eisenhower and Dulles were leaving last December for a Paris meeting with this country's NATO allies.

Some of the Allies were jumpy over Russia's revelation of its missile progress. They wanted peace. And if a summit conference offered a chance for it, they wanted that.

This put Eisenhower and Dulles on the spot. They had no great desire for another summit meeting. But they had to do something positive to offset the Soviet propaganda. That is, they couldn't say no, flatly. They had to do something which didn't slam the door. Eisenhower wrote to Bulganin in January, after Bulganin had sent him a second note. The President rejected some of the Russian's ideas, ignored others, and offered some of his own.

Then he laid down two conditions which put the Soviets in the position of having to make concessions or demonstrate good will and still gave Eisenhower and Dulles an out if, in the end, they didn't want a summit meeting:

1. Eisenhower said he didn't want a summit meeting that shot off in all directions. He wanted preparations for it and this had to be done by American Soviet ambassadors here and in Moscow and also by the foreign ministers.

Eisenhower didn't say either by the diplomats or foreign ministers. He said by both.

2. But even this wasn't enough. He wanted to feel sure—presumably after the preparations were all complete—that a summit meeting was still worthwhile.

Bulganin answered last Sunday. It was almost as if he hadn't read Eisenhower's letter. He just repeated what he said before, even items that Eisenhower had rejected.

Bulganin also rejected some of Eisenhower's ideas and ignored others. But above all he ruled out the idea of preparations made by the foreign ministers, with a thinly veiled slap at Dulles.

Last night the White House fired back. Eisenhower himself didn't answer Bulganin directly. He can do that later in a letter. He let the White House put out a statement.

It said—but more politely—that the Soviets will have to go a lot further to convince Eisenhower a summit meeting could do any good. In effect, it rejected what Bulganin has proposed so far.

Since Bulganin doesn't seem to have much else to do besides writing letters, he'll probably write another.

Skin Specialist Can Aid Victim of Sensitive Nose

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

The nose is a prominent feature which is virtually impossible to conceal, thus anything affecting it is readily apparent.

Q—What causes redness of the nose and what can be done about it? It turns red when the weather is humid and when I drink anything hot or cold. In cold weather I am ashamed of it and in the summer it is the only part of my face which gets sunburned.

A—There are, I think, several possibilities. Sometimes a severe sunburn or a frostbite will make the skin and tissues of the nose extremely sensitive on later occasions. There is a possibility, too, that there is an allergy involved since there is a condition known as physical allergy, or hypersensitivity to heat or cold. Another possibility is a skin disorder known as acne rosacea. I can readily see how this is quite a problem to you and if I had a similar problem I should consult a skin specialist.

Q—If a man's hair is falling out more than normal is it good or bad to have a flat-top haircut?

—G.W.

A—So far as the growth of the hair is concerned I should doubt that it would make any difference at all. A hair is not hollow and there is little or no evidence that close cutting or even shaving the hair of the scalp stimulates hair growth in normal male baldness.

Q—My mother, who is 75, has been told she has a hiatus hernia. I should like to know more about this.—E.

A—This is a bulging, or rupture, in a weak portion of the diaphragm muscle which separates the chest from the abdomen. The amount of weakness varies as do the symptoms. In some cases repair by surgery is indicated, but age is a factor and it is quite possible that surgery would not be recommended in your mother's case. In such instances careful attention to diet and appropriate medication may bring her considerable, though possibly not complete, relief.

Q—You find some new interest you can share. It doesn't matter what the interest is, just so that you both enjoy it.

You set some new goals to work toward—goals you both agree are worth the struggle to achieve.

You start treating each other with as much courteous consideration as you show to others.

You stop criticizing each other, both aloud and silently, and instead look for things to admire and praise.

Don't decide your marriage has grown hopelessly dull until—

The two of you take a little time off from routine and take a trip together. There's every chance that given a change of scene and freedom from responsibility you'll find you are still companionable.

You make a real effort to see more of some of the people you've met and thought you'd like to know better.

You find some new interest you can share. It doesn't matter what the interest is, just so that you both enjoy it.

You set some new goals to work toward—goals you both agree are worth the struggle to achieve.

You start treating each other with as much courteous consideration as you show to others.

A Potential Candidate

Science Now Concentrating On Positive Aid to Oldsters

By Joseph A. Dear
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The first galloping Democrat to take his 1957 bow on the Capital speaking circuit, Governor Robert Meyner of New Jersey, did himself proud.

His speech before the National Press Club didn't clinch the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination for him, but it did enhance his stature as a potential nominee. In his speech Meyner managed to turn a very deft defense of the professional politician into a scathing attack on Ike, though the President's name was not once mentioned.

In the question and answer session, Meyner side-stepped the pitfalls while displaying a becoming modesty. For example, when asked to comment on the question of holding another "summit conference" with the Russians, Meyner blandly admitted his knowledge of foreign affairs was gleaned by a daily reading of the New York Times.

A rather courageous response, that, for his experience in this area is so limited that spokesmen of other presidential candidates are already saying this deficiency should be considered disqualifying.

Meyner, of course, went on to explain that various information must be available to Ike, because he is President, which is not available to any one else. As for another conference at the summit, Meyner said, these factors should be weighed: We must not give the appearance of running from the Russians and thereby let it be thought that we fear their propaganda machinery too much to meet them; we must be frank with our allies in discussing our position; we should remember that lower level officials of Russia cannot act without referring back to Moscow, and that therefore a meeting of the heads of state might be productive.

Meyner has been accused of political timidity, probably because of his ability to juggle hot issues without getting burned. He's a quick man with study commissions, and in fact, has been tagged a "Democratic Ike" by some liberals. And he was asked to comment on all this.

The Governor said, in effect, that any political leader becomes ineffective if he gets too far ahead of his constituents. If a proposed reform was far reaching and radical, it was right to go slow.

"An effective politician," said Meyner in his prepared speech, "anticipates an issue before it becomes critical and divisive. By being considerate of others, he has his own radar system for spotting needs before they are blown up to critical proportions. And he knows enough to move swiftly to meet a problem in its early stages. Despite his partisanship and his personal involvement, he is more effective than the individual who sits on the sidelines taking the lofty view that he is above politics and that politics is a dirty business."

Everyone in Meyner's audience knew he was talking about Ike. About Little Rock, and Sputnik, and unemployment, and the boiling tensions in the Pentagon. The unconscious assumption that Meyner was jumping Ike is in itself an interesting commentary on the politically charged atmosphere in Washington. A year ago who could have imagined that such a paragraph would be construed as an indictment of Ike?

THE YOUNG WOMAN told her husband she was going to take a bath and wandered on into the bathroom while he sat in the living room reading.

She undressed, got in the tub and filled almost full of hot water, and relaxed. She hadn't really realized how tired she was and how sleepy. The bath felt good.

The husband, after quite awhile, began to think she was terribly long taking a bath but he waited a little longer. She had been in that bathroom an hour and by this time he felt he should investigate. He opened the bathroom door and looked in. There she was, deep in the tub of water and fast asleep.

She wasn't even startled when he woke her up — she hardly realized it.

"I gotta wash my hair," she told him, and still practically asleep, she did, in a fashion. She rinsed it on each side a little, climbed in bed and continued her slumbering. She's still not sure whether she ever really woke up or whether she washed her hair in her sleep. There was just one thing in her favor, as far as her hair was concerned. It is naturally curly and very short, so it looked all right when she showed up for work the next morning.

"I sure was tired," she said, and there was no question about it—she had proved it. — H. L.

Anti-Rubbish Drive Near In Scout Unit

The Boy Scouts of America in Pettis District have organized a campaign to get the trash off the roads and streets. This is a big project for the smallest Scouts, the Cubs, for Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13.

On Saturday, Feb. 8, the Sedalia Cub Scouts and their leaders will be downtown with a supply of sacks with instructions printed on them. This is an out right attack on litterbugs who throw sandwich wrappers, candy wrappers, paper sacks, pop bottles, beer cans and all kinds of things out the windows of their cars as they ride along and they don't care whether it is a pretty highway or a city street. One candy wrapper doesn't make any difference they think but when everybody feels the same way the town and country side becomes a littered, unattractive area. Nobody really wants to be a litterbug, they just don't think what they are doing. Too, they don't know what to do with that candy wrapper. They don't want to just throw it down in the car—so they toss it out the window.

The Cub Scouts are taking care of that problem—put it in the little litterbug that is always kept in the car for that purpose. Then, when the bag gets full, just empty it.

The Cub Scouts have 5,000 sacks, furnished by Sedalia merchants, which they will hand out to people as they get in or out of cars. These will be appreciated by people who aren't litterbugs because it will be easier when they have some place to put their trash except in their coat pockets. For those who are in the habit of tossing trash out the car windows the Cub Scouts feel that with a litterbug in the car it will be a reminder not to be a litterbug, and soon the litterbug habit will be a thing of the past.

Finds Many Errors In Science Reports

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (U) — The deer fly once was reported to cruise at 800 miles an hour.

The estimate was made many years ago by a parson-naturalist whose enthusiasm colored his observations. But it was accepted as truth.

A few years ago chemist Irving Langmuir made some tests. The fly's speed turned out to be 70 miles an hour.

Dr. James R. Killian Jr., science adviser to President Eisenhower, told this story today to illustrate the pitfalls of scientific illiteracy.

"Despite this correction, I am told that a recently published table of flying speeds, circulated to an estimated 50 million readers, reported the male deer fly as cruising at 818 miles per hour, while the female struggled along at 800," he said.

YOUR EYES AND VISUAL FUNCTIONS

This is the time in the year when greater attention is urged for the school children's eyes and vision. The American Optometric Association has annually asked that a week in February be designated as "Save Your Vision Week" and in recent years the emphasis has been placed on the visual problems of the school child.

With less out-door activity and with the child using vision at close range for longer periods the Missouri Optometric Association reports that optometrists note greater than usual incidence of visual problems among school children during the mid-winter and early spring months.

Parents of school children are advised that much can be done in preventive visual care with modern optometric procedures and methods. This is the time of year when a careful visual analysis of the student's eyes and visual functions has great value. It is a good time to make a first examination for the child who has never been examined. It is likewise most helpful to re-examine those who have been examined earlier in order to evaluate comparative findings.

Research scientists, optometrists, psychologists and others engaged in studying vision are coming to realize more and more that seeing is learned. The child learns to see and develops his visual skills over a period of years. Some learn good habits of seeing. Some learn faster than others. A modern optometric examination is a study of the child's ability to use his eyes and visual skills.

Every parent should be aware that the visual demands placed on today's children are vastly different than they were a generation or two ago.

Broadway Lanes, Warsaw Hughesville to Quarterfinals

In Lions Club Invitational Tournament

Bob Carson Leads Way for Sedalians Over Grandview

Broadway Lanes, Hughesville and Warsaw advanced to the quarterfinals of the Sedalia Lions Club's Annual Invitational Invitational Basketball Tournament by scoring wins in the first round of play at Horace Mann gymnasium Monday night.

The powerful Sedalia team had trouble coping with the aggressive Grandview AFB representative in the opening quarter, but mid-way the second stanza Coach Francis Giger's crew shot into the lead and proceeded to turn the crowd-pleasing battle into a rout, 87-51. Bob Carson, former ace at William Jewell College, was top gun for Broadway Lanes with 23 points. Gene Sally, the ex-Mizzou flash, dumped in 14 and Bob Decker and C. Henke chipped in 10 each for the winning effort. Payton was leading point maker for the armmen with 14.

In the tournament's opening game, the Hughesville Independents staged a wild scoring offensive and walloped an outclassed International Shoe Co. team from Windsor, 103-46. Lanky Larry Wells exploded for 29 points and Shireman and Ringin bucketed 23 and 24 points, respectively. Thompson was high pointer for Windsor with 15.

Hughesville blasted into a 23-7 lead in the first quarter and from there the game was merely a question of score — or how high Hughesville's point total would be. After three quarters of play, the Pettis Countians commanded a 70-33 advantage and in the final period they made a successful all-out effort to top the century mark. On the conservative side, the Marshall Clippers and Warsaw hooked-up in a cautious fray which the Benton Countians won, 60-47. Neither club managed a good offensive spurt in the opening half which found Warsaw on top, 20-13.

Lowes potted 19 points to lead the Clippers, but Teeter, Bonner and John Wiest netted 15, 14 and 12 respectively to pace Warsaw's win.

Three first round games are on tap tonight with the Superior Cleaners of Warrensburg and a Gamble Store of Windsor meeting in the lid lifter at 6:45 o'clock. Nicholson's Bonus Figure Is $67,000

BALTIMORE (AP) — Outfielder Dave Nicholson of St. Louis says most estimates of his bonus from the Baltimore Orioles were too high. The figure is actually about $67,000.

In a special article written for the Baltimore News-Post yesterday the 18-year-old sensation said the contract also called for a salary of one year. He said after the first year he will have to negotiate for his salary.

"It depends on what I do," he said. Estimates of the amount paid Nicholson by the Orioles ranged as high as $150,000. In addition, the Orioles reportedly gave Nicholson's father a job as scout and gave the family two cars.

Calhoun Eagles Clip Montrose In First

The Calhoun Eagles clipped Montrose in the first round of the 33rd Annual Clinton Invitational Tournament Monday night by a 47-45 count to move into the semifinals of the white division.

Gary Bradley led the Eagles with 16 points and Mike Egbert and Jim Paul chipped in vital counters. Klass led Montrose with 14 points.

In other first round games, top seeded Deepwater bumped Appleton City, 56-32 with Hendrix topping the offensive for the winners with 22 points; Chilhowee ripped Kingsville, 43-41. Southerners paced the victors with 13 points and Hobbs took game scoring honors, netting 14 for Kingsville. In the final game, Osceola clubbed Lowrey City, 65-51.

First Round of Play At Eldon Completed

Top seeded Hickman of Columbia, Salem and Eldon posted first round wins in the opening night of play of the 27th Annual Eldon Invitational Tournament Monday.

The undefeated Kewpies thumped Iberia by an 81-49 count for their 19th win of the season. George Hulett and Ronnie Cox led the Kewpies with 26 and 24 points, respectively. Iberia stayed close to Columbia in the first quarter, 17-14, but the Kewpies zoomed out of sight in the remaining three periods.

CEMO's other representative in the meet, the Jefferson City Jays, were knocked out of the winners' bracket by Salem. Adams was a one man performer in the victorious cause with 29 points.

Eldon utilized a balanced attack with nine players participating in the scoring to smother Dixon, 65-32. (See Sports Slate for tonight's schedule.)

Hubbard Wins Two Over Houstonia

The Hubbard Tigers raced to their eleventh victory of the season against four losses Monday night by walloping the Houstonia Shamrocks 70-35 on the Hubbard court. It was the Tigers' second victory over the Shamrocks this season, the first win coming on Jan. 17 at Houstonia by a 98-43 score.

Of the Tigers' four losses, two were by one point margins, with a 48-47 decision going to Windsor and a 67-66 verdict to Lincoln.

With Gene Sims pouring in 21 points during the first half, the Tigers rolled to a 40-14 halftime lead after taking a 23-8 advantage at the end of the first quarter. Sims had a total of 24 points for the game to top scoring honors.

Hubbard's offensive cooled off during the third frame as they netted only six and the Shamrocks accounted for 12 to cut the deficit to 46-28.

However, the fast moving Tigers roared back in the final period to pump in 24 points to win going away.

Ernest McFader contributed 15 points to the winning cause, and William Cole potted 11.

Haley led Houstonia's attack with 9 points and Larry Pummil added eight.

In a preliminary contest, the "B" Tigers had a rugged time in scoring a 31-29 decision over Houstonia "B" aggregation.

The two teams battled to a 4-4 first quarter deadlock and the Tigers held a 12-11 halftime edge.

The Shamrocks recuperated in the third frame and outscored Hubbard 9-7 for a 20-19 lead, but the Tigers bounced back in the final quarter with 12 points to eke out a hard earned victory.

Houstonia's Shireman took 16 points and Cline led Hubbard with 15.

Swaps' Owners Asked to Return Drought Relief

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is trying to recover $28,914 in drought relief payments to an Arizona ranch whose owners produced the 1935 Kentucky Derby winner Swaps.

Sen. Williams (R-Id.) told the Senate the payments went to the Ellsworth Ranch at Seligman, which he said operates "one of the country's richest racing stables."

Williams demanded that the case be investigated by the Justice Department and steps taken to recover the money.

A spokesman for the Agriculture Department said later the ranch was asked some time ago to return the payments.

At Chino, Calif., Rex Ellsworth said there was nothing understood about the application for government aid for the Seligman ranch.

He said he and his associates, who were not identified, accepted drought relief because they "had no money left to buy drought feed" after making a down payment on the ranch a little over a year ago.

Williams said Ellsworth and a brother received $26,049 of subsidy feed payments and $2,865 worth of free hay. Most of the benefits were received last year, but were stopped when an inquiry was made, he said.

S-C Tigers Travel To Boonville Tuesday

The Smith-Cotton Tigers, with a chance to move into sole possession of third place in the Central Missouri Conference, travel to Boonville tonight to meet the Kemper Yellowjackets.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Western Must Be Authentic For Success

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What makes one Western TV series succeed while others flounder?

That's a question I explored with Dale Robertson, who should know. After all, the guy is the star of "Wells Fargo," which has had fabulous success in the audience ratings. It scores regularly in the top 10, often in the upper half.

"Maybe it's because people get to know that ours is a real Western," he observed. "We don't go in for all that psychological business that some of the others do."

"Our bad guys are mean because they like to be mean, not because they saw their mothers beat their dogs when they were kids. And our good guys are good guys because I don't know, maybe because they aren't smart enough to be bad guys."

Another item: the Wells Fargo title.

"I think it's the best title in the business," the cowpoke said. "Everybody knows what it stands for. And we've got enough real stories to last us for years and years. We're just getting started; I think in our third or fourth year we'll start to hit our stride."

"Of course, you can't just take stories right out of the book and film them. They have to be changed a little to fit into 26 minutes. But people realize they are basically authentic."

He was realistic and outspoken enough not to overlook another factor: Dale Robertson.

"You can sometimes fool the people in little things," he said. "But when you put a guy on a saddle and he goes bounding through the scene, you aren't going to fool many people."

Dale was born in Oklahoma City and has spent his life around horses, unlike some TV cowpokes who have been no closer to the nags than the Saturday matinee. He owns 37 horses of his own.

Hand Is Awarded Civil Servant Trophy for 1957

Robert E. Hand, Windsor, was awarded the Whiteman area civilian servant of the year trophy, at a banquet-dance at the non-commissioned officer's club Saturday night.

Charles Fitzgerald, guest speaker, and prominent Warrensburg attorney, announced the winner and made the award in behalf of the Warrensburg Lion's Club. Fitzgerald said that the civilian servant award would become an annual event in this area.

Col. Richard Kline, base commander welcomed the 60 employees and guests on behalf of Whiteman.

Col. Harold Humfeld, wing commander, addressed the group and also presented Mrs. Irene Wallace, headquarters air base group, a ten year service pin.

In his address Col. Humfeld said, "Seventy-five years is a long time—in fact the federal service system is 25 years older than the Air Force itself. I want to mention more specifically your accomplishments here at the base. The records show a continuing unselfish attitude and desire on your part to make this base the finest in the Air Force. Both Col. Kline and I know and appreciate that we are blessed with an outstanding corp of civilian employees here. The record not only shows it but our excellent employee relationship has resulted in repeated favorable comments over the past years by both civilian and Air Force inspectors."

Maurice Faherty, Whiteman electrical engineer, emceed the banquet and the Bob Cummings orchestra furnished the music for the dance which followed.

Traffic Toll In 1957 Down 3 Per Cent

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic death toll in 1957 was 38,500, a 3 per cent drop from 1956, and marked the lowest mileage death rate in history.

"The 1957 record is, of course, definitely encouraging," said the National Safety Council, which announced the figures today. "It reflects an unmistakable improvement in traffic behavior and enforcement."

Deaths on the highways last year compared with 39,623 in 1956, which was one of the highest on record. The 1,100 fewer deaths in 1957 was the second largest reported in any year since the end of World War II and was surpassed only by a decrease of approximately 2,400 deaths in 1954, the council said.

The 1957 mileage death rate (deaths per 100 million vehicle miles) was 5.9, compared with the previous all-time low of 6.3 in 1956 and 1954.

The council said every month of 1957 except August showed a drop or no change in traffic fatalities from the same month in 1956.

"One year does not make an era of safer traffic," the council said. "But 1957 could well be the turning point in the war on traffic accidents. It is significant that the improvement was attained in the face of a 4 per cent rise in motor vehicle travel."

Traffic deaths in December totaled 3,710, a 4 per cent drop from the toll of 3,853 lives "in a month that traditionally brings peak danger on the highway."

The all-time high traffic death toll was 39,969 in 1941.

The council commended governors, mayors and traffic enforcement agencies for the 1957 record, and added: "The drivers and pedestrians deserve a big pat on the back too. They, of course, actually made the improvement possible."

Chairman Earl Hoff of the annual Indiana Authors Day observance wrote to a New York book publisher asking for a review copy of "The Education of a Poker Player," written by Herbert O. Yardley. The book is being reviewed along with others by Indiana authors published in 1957.

Football Game Preparation Ranked Perfect by MHSAA

By Bill Heiss

The officials for our athletic contests sent in ratings on the schools to the Missouri High School Activity Association, and the results of our ratings for our performances on the football field are in, and gives Smith-Cotton another record to be proud of. With a rating of 1 being excellent, 2 superior, 3 average, 4 below average and 5 very poor, we rated the following: Our sportsmanship was rated as 1.39, as was the respect shown to officials. The coaches received a 1.33 and our preparation for games was rated as a perfect 1.

The sophomore class had the assembly last Thursday which was a talent show. Kathy Means, Janice Harbik, Sandra Dewitt, Kay Jacobi, Judy McDonald and Judy Ann Gardner led off the program, as they make up the Sophomore Sextette. Next was Kay Burke doing a gypsy dance, followed by Linda Bunn who did a dramatic reading. Jo Ann Patrick played the piano and David Wilhite, Doug Gilpin, Nicky Nichols and Davis Scantlin did a pantomime of several popular records.

Bill Heiss then gave a humorous reading and was followed by a violin solo by Susa Ward. Another pantomime was then given by Janet Morris and Judy Ann Gardner, who were followed by the concluding act with Sue Turk in a modern toe dance. Bob Vedder, master of ceremonies was pleased with the assembly as were Mrs. Yurasich and the students and faculty in the audience.

Wednesday the "L Club" initiation was held during both the day and at 8 o'clock that night. The initiation was directed by the "L Club" President Marshall Bryan.

The "L Club" is an organization at Smith-Cotton for all junior and senior boys who have earned a letter from our school. During the day the new members were given commands by all old "L Club" members, which included stunts like waddling and quacking like a duck through the halls, shining shoes, passing out candy and many others on that order.

But the funniest part of the daytime ceremonies was that each new member had to dress like a woman, including lipstick and rouge. All this added up to a lot of fun for students at Smith-Cotton, all the old members, and especially the new members.

The new members are Dennis Houk, Gary Cristian, B. C. Poynter, Bobby Garrison, Melvin Brown, Dale Burford, Marvin Maune, Peter Lamy, Carl Kasak, Mike Salmon, Leroy Street, Teddy Walch, Dale Maggard, David Dotson, John Cross, Dean Griswold, Kenny Shepherd, Esko Ollila, Charles Lawrence, Jerry Brown, John Middleton and Larry Wahlers. The final session, held at 8 o'clock, was secret and was held under the auspices of the "L Club" sponsor, Mr. Forest Arnall.

The annual Vocal Music Festival Contest was held last Wednesday with the judge being Miss Eleanor Shockey, a member of the music faculty of Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg. The contest started at 9 o'clock and ended around 2 o'clock. The ratings given were Eighth Grade Chorus—II; Freshman Girls Glee Club—I; Sophomore Girls Glee Club—I; Junior Girls Glee Club—I; Senior Girls Glee Club—I; Eighth Grade Sextet—I; Freshman Girls Sextet—I; Sophomore Girls Sextet—I; Junior Girls Sextet—I; Senior Girls Triple Trio—I.

Republicans Annual Meet In St. Louis

Republicans of Missouri will convene in St. Louis Friday and Saturday, Feb. 7-8 to participate in their annual Missouri Association of Republican activities. Five organizations will hold various programs. The featured event will be the final banquet Saturday evening, at which United States Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton of Nebraska, will be the speaker in the Hotel Jefferson Gold Room.

Among the other four groups sharing in the programs and their speakers are: Missouri Republican Editorial Association with Merrill Chilcote of St. Joseph, presiding, and Mayor Stanley Dale of that city as speaker. Mrs. Earle Frost, Kansas City, and president of the State Federation of Republican Women, announced that Mrs. Robert Low Bacon of Washington, D. C., will address their Saturday 12:30 p.m. luncheon. Congressman Tom Curtis will speak before the Missouri Rep. Veterans League. Members of the State Young Republicans will have as guest of honor John Ashbrook, of Columbus, Ohio, National Chairman of the Young Republican Federation.

A high school bowling league has recently been formed under the sponsorship of Mr. Jaeger. The organizations first meeting was held last Thursday to discuss several business items and to see actually how many people were interested.

With the Sweetheart Dance soon to be coming up, the contest for sweetheart candidates is well under way. Several candidate couples were chosen for each class, and one couple selected by the vote of the class. These couples will then vie for the title at the dance. Chosen for the various classes are as follows: The seniors will be represented by Carolyn Kelly and Larry Wahlers, the juniors by Gary Cramer and Connie Welch, the sophomores by Gaylen Biglow and Vicki Hunnel, the freshmen by Spencer Fricke and Diana Grant, and the eighth graders by Sharon Maggard and Charles Smith.

The competition for the school's sweetheart couple will be carried on by the various classes, with votes being based on the number of pennies collected by the students. The money collected in this manner will go into the fund to bring a foreign student to our community next year.

It takes a GIANT to quench a 36-billion-gallon thirst

The man who asks, "Fill'er up, sir?" is one of thousands of friendly operators and attendants of the more than 182,000 service stations across the country. Together, they pumped over 36 billion gallons of gasoline into cars in 1957.

Selling petroleum products is a gigantic job requiring the services of men, machines and media. Highest on the list of advertising media are newspapers—a giant that keeps the public informed of the quality of these petroleum products.

Over 58,000,000 newspapers are bought daily by people who buy from newspaper advertising. That's why dealers, jobbers and producers of petroleum, like so many others, place more money in newspapers than in any other medium.

If you have a thirst for sales, you can quench it quicker and with more satisfaction in the action medium—the action-packed daily newspaper.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

Asks Ike 'Break Up' Disarmament Package

WASHINGTON — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) today called on President Eisenhower to "break up" his disarmament package and offer to negotiate with the Soviet Union on a two-year ban on nuclear weapons tests.

An agreement to ban such tests should be considered apart from other proposals, including that to halt production of nuclear weapons, Humphrey contended in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

In a general review of disarmament efforts, Humphrey said Eisenhower has refused to supply the Senate Disarmament subcommittee with reports made by Harold E. Stassen's "task forces" on methods of providing inspection procedures for safe disarmament. Humphrey is chairman of the subcommittee. Stassen is Eisenhower's special assistant for disarmament.

UAW Plans Would Hurt Little People

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Ford Motor Co. official declared today that "millions of little people will get hurt" if the new bargaining proposals of the United Auto Workers are adopted.

Theodore O. Yntema, a Ford vice president for financial matters, said the UAW proposals would cause a "massive cost-inflation" in the U.S. economy. His testimony was prepared for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee.

He said further that UAW President Walter Reuther's proposal last August that car prices be cut $100 "would wipe out two companies in the industry and it would weaken Chrysler and Ford." The two companies to which he referred apparently are Studebaker-Packard and American Motors.

"If Mr. Reuther's wage and profit sharing proposals were adopted," Yntema said, "they would increase costs drastically in our industry and also across the country, as the wage pattern in automobiles was followed elsewhere."

"When Mr. Reuther says his labor proposals are not inflationary, he is talking nonsense. His basic minimum economic demands, which he did not explain to you, amount to some 40 cents an hour, or about 12 per cent of our hourly rates and a much higher percentage of wages generally."

Reuther appeared last week before the subcommittee in its investigation of auto prices. He devoted much of his testimony to pushing the profit sharing plan advanced for his union's 1958 bargaining negotiations with the auto companies.

Under this, all profits above 10 per cent on net capital before taxes would be split three ways: one half to the company, including payments to stockholders and executives; one-fourth to wage and salaried employees; and one-fourth to car buyers in the form of rebates.

Yntema said that Ford and other auto companies have not raised prices unnecessarily.

He told the senators that wholesale prices of the fastest selling Ford four-door sedan rose 32.8 per cent from 1948 through 1957. In the same period he said the company's labor rates went up 66.8 per cent, steel prices 80.7 per cent, and prices of metal-working machinery 69.9 per cent.

As for the 1958 Ford prices, Yntema said these averaged less than 2½ per cent over 1957 model prices, and that this did not offset all of the cost increases of the past year.

Calls Mystery Object A Local English Hoax

LONDON (AP)—A mystery cylinder with "Russian markings" that parachuted to earth near London has been tabbed a hoax by Britain's Air Ministry.

"The whole thing originated, we think, in this country," a ministry spokesman said. He added that the supposed scientific instruments inside the cylinder came from inside an alarm clock.

The cylinder, which landed south of London Sunday, carried directions in four languages asking that it be returned to the Soviet Aeronautical Institute.

White House Dinner Honors Scientists

WASHINGTON (AP)—The third state dinner of the 195 White House social season honors the nation's leading scientists and top military officials tonight.

It will be the first time scientists have been given social recognition for a state dinner at the White House.

The resident and Mrs. Eisenhower are giving such dinners during January and February. Previous dinners have honored Vice President Nixon and Cabinet members, and House Speaker Rayburn.

Coldest Winter Weather Grips Southeast Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The season's coldest weather gripped sections of the Southeast today as storm weather which hit Northeast areas appeared diminishing.

Below freezing temperatures extended southward through much of northern Florida with forecasts of frost or freezing weather in farm lands. Damaging freezes hit the farm areas earlier this year.

Cold air extended over most of the region east of the Mississippi River. Temperatures dropped to near zero in northern New England and parts of Wisconsin and Illinois. They dipped into the teens as far south as northern Tennessee and in northern sections of Alabama and Georgia.

Strong winds lashed Eastern sections yesterday, piling huge snow drifts and blocking some highways. Drifts ranging from five to eight feet were reported in western Pennsylvania. No classes were to be held in eight school districts because of the heavy drifts in many rural areas.

Heavy snow also hit sections of Maryland, New York state and West Virginia.

Tokyo Court Gives Airman Three Years

TOKYO (AP)—The Tokyo higher court today sentenced U.S. Airman Benjamin B. Owyang of Sacramento, Calif., to three years imprisonment for stabbing a Japanese to death in a highway brawl. No suspension of sentence was granted.

Judge Yoichi Nakanishi scrapped a lower court decision last August acquitting the 22-year-old airman and found him guilty of inflicting bodily injury resulting in death.

Owyang can still appeal to the Japanese Supreme Court.

The charge was the same as that made against GI William S. Girard, who drew a three-year suspended sentence last year after a prolonged legal battle over Japan's right to try him. Girard shot and killed a Japanese woman collecting scrap while he was

Four Owe Lives To a Mountie In Plane Crash

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP)—Four persons whose plane crashed near the Arctic Circle owe their lives to a Canadian Mountie who happened by on his once-a-year patrol of the desolate wasteland.

The four — a Norwegian pilot, a resident doctor, an Eskimo and his daughter — crashed Friday in a single-engine Norseman while on a 330-mile flight from Churchill to Chesterfield Inlet, 850 miles north of Winnipeg.

The plane struck the rocky shoreline 200 miles below the Arctic Circle, tearing off the wings, ripping open the roof and throwing the injured occupants into the snow in 30-below-zero temperature.

The nearest outpost was Chesterfield Inlet, 18 miles away, but Mounted Police Constable Len Mascatto was making his annual patrol by dogsled along the coast. He spotted the plane 30 minutes after the crash.

Mascatto administered first aid while his Eskimo guide went for help. The victims were taken to Chesterfield by snowmobile, then were flown to Churchill and on to Winnipeg, where they were hospitalized last night.

The victims were Wiggo Norwang, Norwegian pilot, who suffered frostbitten hands, a broken leg and bruises; Dr. Jean Charles Patry, Chesterfield Inlet, broken ribs and leg; the Eskimo, Aya-rnak, broken shoulder, arm, leg and ankle; and his 11-year-old daughter Annie, undisclosed injuries.

on guard at a U.S. firing range. Owyang was convicted of stabbing Kenji Kurihara, 24, a year ago in a fight near Kisarazu, about 30 miles east of Tokyo.

Hiroshima Victims Protest Truman Talk

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—An organization of Hiroshima atom-bomb victims is going to lodge a protest against former President Truman's television interview comment that he "had no qualms" about ordering the dropping of the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima.

A spokesman for the Council of Hiroshima Atom Bomb Victims called Truman's statement "outrageous." He said the council's directors will meet Feb. 6 to study means of lodging the protest.
